When Mr. O'Donnell referred in complimentary terms to "the great leader of the past two campaigns," there was a demonstration in which the name of Bryan was heard above the uproar. He invited the "prodigais who had been feeding on husks" back into the fold, for, he said, "we need all kinds of Democrats in this campaign."

His mention of Parker's name was greeted with shouts and applause. "Colorado once more joins hands with New York." he concluded, "and the echo comes back, "Parker, popular rights and victory."

"The Democracy of Florida desire the somination of Hearst, because the paramount issue to-day is the trust question, and William R. Hearst is the most persistent and aggressive opponent of the trusts and all of the hardships and evils attendant upon their unrestrained oppressions of the people. The Democracy of Florida desire the nomination of Hearst because we believe that he is the only man who can carry into the Democratic column the pivotal State of New York, Illinois and Indiana, which are essential to the Democratic success, and Democratic success can only rescue the South from Rooseveltism and negrotsm. We believe that Hearst can and will carry New York, if this convention makes him the standard-bearer of the Democratic party.

They fear because of his record because of his personality; because the splendor of his career and the grandeur of his character would so outshine he acting President as to pale his boasted exploits into utter insignificance. Vigorous applause followed Mr. Overmeyer's mention of the name of General Miles, but when the continued his address, after naming his candidate, he, was frequently interrupted by the galleries, and the applause at the conclusion of his remarks was short lived.

Delegate Rosing, of Missouri, then interposed a motion to limit seconding speaches to one minute, but Dockery, of Missouri, and Grady, of New York, objecting, the limit was placed at four minutes.

J. W. Orr, of Kansas, thereupon briefly seconded Parker's nomination, as did Thomas H. Bell, of Texas.

Louisiana seconded the nomination of Parker by a simple announcement.

Clark Names Cockrell.

Maine gave way to Missouri, and Champ Clark placed in nomination Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri, for the presidency.

It was after 1 o'clock when Mr. Clark began to speak. His audience had sat for more than five hours in the swettering heat of the packed hall and listened chiefly to prepared speeches. They were growing tired. In five minutes he had more than five hours in the sweltering heat of the packed hall and listened chlefly to prepared speeches. They were growing tired. In five minutes he had won his audience, and warriness was swept from them. They responded to every hit and cheered him to the echo. Mr. Clark's first mention of his candidate as "old Cockrell" threw the convention into convulsions of laughter, which speedily turned to cheers, and the Missouri senator received a warm tribute that lasted for several minutes. The band played "Dixie," and hen above tha band and the cheers, rising high and clear as a burje call, suddenly came the shrill and plercing "rebel yell," and then the long drawn "wah-hoo-oo" of the plains, while the galleries' occupants blossomed forth with flags.

The Missouri delegation went on a short march around the hall, but the spectacle was so much less interesting than the beautiful sight offered by the many flags that the parade was soon abandoned. The tribute to Senator Cockrell, which was one of the handsomest things of its kind seen in many a convention, lasted more than a quarter of an hour, Mr. Clark retired before the demonstration ended. Senator Cockrell's name had been mentioned in the home of his friends, and they gave a fine exhibition of loyalty and affection.

Kansas sought to make a counter demonstration by waying two pictures of Hearst, but the Missourlans were not to be denied, and this time they "showed things to the toher side."

Olney Nominated.

After twenty minutes, quiet was restored, and Patrick A. Collins, of Boston, nominated Richard Olney, of the Old Bay State, mention of whom called forth cheers, led by Massachusetts. That delegation added to the picturesqueness of the scene by waving flags and hurling confottl.

There was another loud cheer when the speaker declared that Richard Olney needed no introduction to the world.

Maryland seconded the nomination of Parker through Buchanan Schley, who made a brief speech.

When Minnesola was called, the chairman of that delegation, on behalf of a rortion of the delegation, seconded the nomination of Judge Parker and another member, on behalf of a majority of the delegation, seconded Mr. Hearst.

Governor Vardaman, of Mississippl, briefly seconded Parker's nomination. Schator Clark, of Mohtana, also seconded the nomination of Parker.

Wall Nominated; Great Confusion.

Nobraska came next, and there was an uproar of "Bryan!" "Bryan!" "Bryan!" in! but after he was able to be heard, Mr. Bryan merely yielded to Wisconsin, and Mayor David S. Rose, of Milwaukee, placed E. C. Wall in nomination. Mayor Rose drew some hisses by criticising other candidates, but without naming them. He took the New York delegation to task severely for presenting Judge Parker. "The nation has been calling on New York for months to tell us what are the principles of their candidate," he rang out, "but he has said nothing." Oscar L. Miles, a Kansas delegate, amid the uproar, yelled the point of order that "the gentleman is not speaking in behalf of any candidate, but in general arraignment of the Democratic party."

Cries of 'Right,' Alght, we'd heard above the uproar.

Chairman Bailey overruled the point of order, and Mr. Rose, as he went on, grow rapidly unpopular and caused great confusion.

having been brought into conjunction, that Mr. Bryan made his strong fight.
Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, first offered the income tax amendment, and it was immediately antisonized by former Senator Hill, who stated that with such a plank in the platform. New York could not be carried for the Democratic nominees. He urged the adoption of a platform which would enable the Democratic to win in doubtful States and elect their candidate. Mr. Williams withdrew the amendment, saying that he, with many other Democrats, were seeking harmony and an adjustment of all differences, with a view of succeeding on a Democratic pattorm.

Daniel Renlies to Bryan.

Daniel Replies to Bryan.

Mr. Bryan then offered an income tax amendment and made a speech in favor of it. He asserted that while votes might be lost among the very rich, the Demoratic party ought to consider the great mass of the people, who bear the burdens of taxation and the expenses of the government.

while believing in an income tax, said that in view of the statement of the New York member of the committee, it would am entirely willing to leave that to the wisdom of the Democratic party." While Mr. Hill did not assume at any time to speak for Judge Parker, the committee interpreted the inference of his speech to be that Judge Parker favored the insertion of a gold plank.

Mr. Bryan replied at length to the argument of Mr. Hill, and insisted that, in the face of past declarations of the party, a gold plank would now allenate many thousands of Democratic voters.

Benator Carmack, of Tennessee. made a plea especially for the South, and said that Democratic success was necessary in the face of the Republican policy of imperialism. Its recent platform was dangerous to the South. He hoped some agreement could be reached which would bring to the support of the Democratic South the Democratic party of the East. As to the money question, that was for the time settled, and he urged that the ampaign as a disturbing element.

Shortly before 4 o'clock Senator Daniel created a sensation in the committee by an attack upon Mr. Bryan, which soon worked cries for order from several mem-

Again facing Mr. Bryan, Senator Daniel

Wouldn't Have Him Stop.

Mr. Bryan asked that Senator Daniel be allowed to proceed, and the latter resumed his speech by saying that he had not intended to enter into personalities. Continuing, the senator said:

"I am convinced that the country is on the verge of a great catastrophe and calamity." He said further that it was urgent that the Democratic party recover the reins of government. "This is not the time," he said. "for selfish interest, for small conceptions of consistency, for personal likes or regards. It is not pleasant for me to give up my own opinion. But there are questions of expediency to be considered."

Senator Daniel favored the gold plank. Mr. Pee, of Maryland, made a brief, but vigorous, appeal for the gold plank, declaring that if the party in its patient of the process of the feared that Maryland would be lost to the Democratis in the fall elections.

The question was demanded, and the gold plank was stricken out by a vote of 5 to 1s. Mr. Bryan got the floor suon after the adoption of the motion strikking out the gold plank, and informally presented for the individual consideration of the members of the committee a financial plank which he later presented as a substitute for the gold plank.

Other Planks Considered.

The Panama Canal plank was modified so as to promise to do what coult be done when the Democrats control the sovernment. The committee then took up the trust plank, This was the subsect of conico as separate States."

In dealing with the subject of statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory, the committee was less emphatic in its declaration, contining the plank to a peneral recommendation of statehood for these two Territories, as follows:

"We favor the admission of the Territories of Oklahoma and Indian Terri-vitories of Oklahoma and Indian Terretory."

The currency plank offered by Mr. Bryan was referred to a subcommittee consisting of Williams, Bryan and Hill, with authority to draft a financial plank for submission to the full committee. The opinion was expressed that these men might agree upon something, and if they should, it would probably eliminate any fight on the floor of the convention.

The Trust Plank. The Trust Plank.

Senator Tillman, upon noting a smile upon the faces of both Mr. Bryan and My. Hill, remarked to Mr. Bryan that "since you and Mr. Hill seem to have become so chummy. I think we had better look further into the trust plank," mount issue, and that unless a question was settled right it was never settled at all.

Senator Daniel called Mr. Shively to the chair and made a speech supporting the principle of anti-trust legislation. He took the position, however, that if enforced, the existing interstate commerce law and anti-trust statutes are sufficient, and he believed that a Democratic administration could be depended upon to enforce them. Hence he considered it safe to omit the proposed plank.

The discussion continued at length and until Mr. Hill presented a substitute for the trust plank, which was unanimously accepted and with applause.

The compromise anti-trust plank offered by Mr. Hill and adopted provides that whenever a trust or combination affects a monopoly in the production or distribution of any articles of trade outside the State of origin, it may be restricted by appropriate legislation from continuing doing business in these States.

The Platform Adopted.

The Platform Adopted.

This matter disposed of, the race question was taken up, and after brief discussion a plank deploring the injection of this issue into the campaign by the Chicago convention was adopted. It was introduced by Senator Danlel.

Two financial planks, offered by Senator Carmack, were voted down Mr Hryan- presented a suggestion, deciaring to be the sense of the Democratic party that the volume of currency should not be diminished, but Mr. Hill complianed that in view of the action of the committee last night in voting down the gold plank, the insertion of the proposed resolution would be a species of had resolution would be a species of had gold plank, the insertion of the proposed resolution would be a species of had raith.

The committee accepted this view, and voted down the resolution. No further financial planks were suggested, and the platform, being considered complete, was then adopted by a rising vote, and in the risks of general applause.

As the members emerged from the chamber, they generally expressed themselvs as satisfied with the work they had accomplished, some of the expressions heard being as follows:

Senator Daniel: "The platform was manimously adopted, and is reasonably ratisfactory."

Senator Tillman: "We have accomplished a miracle; we have succeeded in gitting a platform without any poison in it."

Mr. Bryan: "I am fairly well satisfied with the platform. I have had opportunity to present some matters I directly and I have had to make concessions in some instances in order to get what I share that."

Mr. Bryan said:

"We are all satisfied. We have all vanted some things put in that the committee has rejected, but on the whole, the document is perfectly satisfactory. You know you can't get everything you want."

You know you can't get everything you want."

Senator Hill said;
"I am perfectly satisfied. Of course, there are things that I wanted in, and thought should go in, but in politics it is give and take, and I am taking. I should have liked to see an exprossion on finances in the platform, but the majority thought otherwise, and neitner Mr. Hyyan's plank nor mine was adopted. You will remember that the New Yors State Convention made no mention on the financial question, and so this platform is similar. We did not put 'n an income tax plank, and we changed 'mly slightly the tariff plank."

"Will Judge Parker, stand on the platform as drawn?" was asked.
"I do not see why not. I am said to be one of his friends," he answered smiling, "and I have said I am satisfied."

Strong Disapproval.

Strong Disapproval.

Despite Senator Hill's optimistic view of the situation, there were many expressions of strong disapproval in the larger headquarters by delegates. One suffice the strong disapproval in the larger headquarters by delegates. One suffice the suffice cannot stand for such a platform, and if he is nominated, he will be compelled to deal with the financial question in his letter of acceptance."

To this statement Chairman Myer, of the New York Democratic State Committee, said:

the approval of the full committee. But not so with the navy plank, calling for a liberal annual increase for the navy. Genator Tillman said this plank would gain no votes, and there was no necessity, in his opinion, of mentioning the large. The committee, after a lengthy debate on the plank proposed by ex-Governor Thomas, of Colorado, regarding labor, was adopted by the committee.

The committee, after a lengthy debate on the plank relating to separate statishood for the Territories, adopted a subplank, offered by Delegate Simmons, of Arizona, with respect to Arizona and New Mexico, as follows:

"We favor the immediate admission of the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico as separate States."

Burlington county, New Jersey, spent a large part of Tuesday looking for three negro men who had assaulted a farmer's wife, with a view to lynching them, and Chesterfield county, South Carolina, was similarly employed under like provocation. There is no geography, it appears, in the disposition of men to punish those who assert "equality" in the offensive manner litustrated in these instances. To jostie a white man off the sidewalk is an unnecessary assertion of social position, but to humiliate a white woman more bruisliy merely because she is white is an outrage so gross that people North and South find it difficult to treat it with due regard to law and order.—Baltimore Sun.
